

The Gathering Of The Clans

Chorus

*The clans are gathering, gathering, gathering,
Thro' the deep glens and from faraway lands;
From cottage and shieling wild music is stealing,
Horo for the gathering of the clans.*

The pipers are sounding in lowland and highland,
The laddies sae brave and the lassies sae braw,
They come from the hill and they come from the island,
And some from across the wide ocean and a'.

Chorus

The Campbells and Camerons, Grants and MacDonalds
Are proud in the tartans that swing as they go
The couthy young callants and a' the braw gallants
The bonny gay Gordons and men of Munro.

Chorus

Then Farquharson, Morrison, Sinclair and Lamont
Come fling off your plaidies this glorious day
To join in a reel with the lads of MacNeil
As you whirl to the skirl of the pipes of MacCree.
